BASIC CORRECTIONAL OFFICER TRAINING

WEEK 1 FY20-21

Cultural Diversity

Cultural issues are personal; they get to the heart of what you think about people, but rarely reveal. We may fear that we will offend others if we voice our opinion or thoughts on racial, ethnic, gender, or other such issues. We must be able and prepared to deal effectively with a wide variety of people; the key word here is effectively. The purpose of this course is to explore ways to work with our cultural differences, not let them be stumbling blocks.

Introduction to Incident Command System

This lesson plan introduces TINCOM - Tennessee Incident Command for Corrections and provides participants with a fundamental understanding of line level response to emergencies in an institutional setting.

First Aid/CPR

Correctional employees face the possibility of having to administer emergency first aid on a daily basis. The purpose of this course is to provide them with the skills and knowledge to accomplish these life saving techniques.

Basic Report Writing

This lesson plan introduces the students to what constitutes a written report and why it is essential to be clear and concise. They will be introduced to the role of written reports as used to effectively discipline inmates and defend themselves in legal processes. These principles will be presented through lecture, discussion, and practicums. The student will write two reports one of which will be a skills test.

Basic E-TOMIS

The participant will learn how to sign on to the E-TOMIS training environment. The instructor(s) will guide the student through the step-by-step process of entering an incident and a disciplinary report onto E-TOMIS. If time allows, a practice incident/disciplinary will also be entered. The student will then be required to demonstrate proficiency by entering an incident and disciplinary report on TOMIS as a skills test.

Counseling Skills

All staff interacting on a regular basis with offenders have daily opportunities to encourage them to change their thinking and subsequently their behavior. Cognitive-behavioral therapy is one of the techniques that can be used as part of the effort to rehabilitate inmates. This type of technique is used in a variety of treatment programs and other staff can support that effort if they are knowledgeable of how it works. Cognitive-behavioral therapies combine cognitive and behavioral techniques to help offenders to identify and correct faulty thinking as it relates to behavior.

Security Threat Groups (STG)

The American Correctional Association concluded years ago that street gangs were slowly becoming the prison gangs of the future. Our prison population has undergone a dramatic change over the past 10 years with an increasing number of inmates who are younger, more violent and have been identified as being members or associates of organized groups. This has created cause for concern for the safety and security of our institutions. Each of you must possess an awareness of the dangers and problems that are unique to the management and control of these inmates. An important first step to effective management is simply the recognition and identification of those inmates who fall into these categories. This course is designed to provide you with information which will allow you to recognize inmates who may be potentially threatening to institutional security and how TDOC attempts to manage the problem.

Hostage Survival

This course is designed not only to teach the cadet how to enhance their chances for survival in a hostage situation but to educate them in some of the procedural responses involved in successfully resolving a hostage situation.

Social/Cultural Lifestyles of Inmates

This course will identify and examine the two social structures that exist in the prison setting; that of staff and that of inmates. The staff structure is based on policies and procedures, while the inmate social structure is more "informal" - based largely on feelings and values of the inmate population. The course will also cover both the employee code and the inmate code. The interaction between these two generally opposing groups will be addressed by some general rules that should be recognized and applied. This course will also provide a view of the unique differences that occur when dealing with female inmates as well as some of the reasons for these differences.

Victim Awareness

The trauma that victims experience when encountering their offender is immeasurable. This class will examine and discuss the victim's experience and how we as a department may be able to minimize the trauma of the victim seeing their attacker again during parole hearings or other victim/offender program meetings. Professional, nonjudgmental demeanor of institutional staff toward visitors will also be discussed.

Inmate Disciplinary Procedures

TDOC employees are sworn to faithfully discharge duties and to avoid ill treatment or abuse of inmates under their charge. Each TDOC employee who has direct contact with inmates is required by policy #502.01 to enforce inmate regulations. This course will enable trainees to successfully carry out this requirement.

Report Writing – Use of Force Form

This course introduces the students to the specifics of the TDOC Use of Force Incident form.

Work Ethics

This course is designed to look at what it takes to be an ethical employee. The course focuses on workplace values such as coming to work on time, being punctual with regard to lunch breaks, abiding by rules and policies, respecting co-workers, being productive and serving TDOC inmates in a positive manner.

Shared Security

Regardless of job classification, every correctional employee's primary concern must be the safety and security of the institution. Inmates can and will take advantage of non-security staff members to acquire items of benefit in an escape attempt, obtain contraband, or just to be the recipient of "favors". Non-security personnel do not receive the degree of training on security issues that is provided correctional officers. Unfortunately, neither do they have the daily reinforcement of the importance of security concerns. This class is designed to emphasize the importance of security to all personnel, regardless of job classification.

Legal and Professional Issues

This is a lecture and activity-based course designed to familiarize the new correctional employee with Constitutionally-protected inmate rights and the employee's professional responsibility as it relates to safeguarding those rights and professionalism. During the course, students will be given instruction on procedures for avoiding behavior or appropriately responding to inmate litigation.

Recognizing Disturbances

A riot is one of the most devastating events that can occur in a correctional facility related to the destruction, the potential for injury or death to both staff and inmates and the long-term trauma for those who may have been held hostage. Correctional riots are a part of our history and unfortunately, they are potentially a part of our future. It is vitally important, therefore, that everyone working in a correctional facility understand riots and disturbances-what they are and how they can be prevented.

Sudden In-Custody Death Syndrome

Correctional Officers have a limited and largely inadequate set of tools to use to safely subdue violent aggressive inmates, according to a recent analysis done by the National Law Enforcement Technology Center about in custody deaths. The Center discovered evidence that unexplained in-custody deaths are caused, more often than is generally known, by a little known phenomenon called positional asphyxia. Correctional Officers need to be aware why these deaths occur and how to prevent them. Through lecture/discussion and video presentation, the instructor will identify the factors found to cause positional asphyxia. Recommendations for assuring offender safety and advisory guidelines for care of offenders will also be provided.

Social Communication Skills

This course highlights the value of Emotional Intelligence not only in the work environment but throughout everyday interactions. A pre-test and post-test is conducted to assess students learning.

Verbal Self Defense

This course is based on concepts similar to Verbal Judo. Most confrontations with offenders are verbal and if handled properly by the officer (or other staff) are not likely to escalate into a physical attack. The problem is that we as correctional employees often let our ego, our biases, or personal feelings determine how we respond to a situation. These types of responses are not only unprofessional; they are likely to result in making the situation worse, even resulting in a physical attack. When we resort to these types of responses, it may be said (accurately) that the results are "our own fault." This course will provide the correctional employee with many valuable verbal "do's and "don'ts" during confrontations with inmates

Rookie Syndrome

This course will include Identifying and discussing common problems and mistakes a new correctional officer will face. Solutions to problems and mistakes will be discussed in class as well as other sources for assistance the new correctional officer may turn to.

WEEK 2 FY20-21

Firearms Policy and Procedure

This course of instruction is designed to acquaint you with policies and procedures regarding use of deadly force, criteria for firearms qualification, and personnel authorized to carry firearms. Safety rules for the proper handling of firearms and inspection of ammunition will be discussed to provide for a safe environment during weapon qualification.

Firearms – Revolver

Trainees will receive instruction on the nomenclature of the revolver, which will help enable the trainee to perform adequate safety checks of the firearm. Fundamentals of effective marksmanship (breath control, sight alignment, trigger squeeze, stance, and grip) will be thoroughly explained. The proper method for loading, firing, and unloading as well as common malfunctions and methods of clearing these malfunctions will be covered. The student will also be presented ballistics information on the ammunition issued to them as well as how to properly clean the revolver. Techniques learned in the classroom will be applied on the range during the qualification period.

Firearms – Shotgun

Trainees will receive instruction on the nomenclature of the 12 gauge pump action shotgun. The ability to identify parts and their function will enable the trainee to perform adequate safety checks of the firearm. Fundamentals of effective marksmanship (breath control, sight alignment, trigger squeeze, stance, and grip) as these apply to the shotgun will be thoroughly explained. The proper method for loading, firing, and unloading the shotgun will be covered to ensure that the trainee is well versed in all aspects of safe handling and operation of the weapon. Trainees will be given the procedures they are to use when cleaning the shotgun. Techniques learned in the classroom will be applied on the range during the qualification period.

Range Safety/Familiarization

Before a trainee is allowed to participate in live firing drills on the firing range it is vital that each trainee be given ample opportunity to practice with each weapon in a safe environment until comfortable with each weapon. This course is designed to allow trainees the opportunity to practice handling, loading, and unloading each of the standard issue weapons fired on the range. Participants will practice loading and unloading .38 caliber revolvers, and 12 gauge shotguns using inert ammunition.

Firearms Skills

This is a skills based course that follows classroom instruction and safety instructions on the revolver and shotgun. The participant will demonstrate that they have an understanding of how the guns are loaded and fired while using dummy or inert ammunition. This course is designed to allow the participants to become familiar with each weapon prior to use with live ammunition.

Firearms Test

This is the written component of the firearms program utilized to test comprehension of material presented during the classroom lecture and the skills portion on the revolver and shotgun. Seventy-five percent comprehension is required to pass the test.

Firearms Non-Scored Practice and Firearms Qualification

Tennessee Department of Correction policy requires all Correctional Officers to qualify on the range, after a non-scored live fire practice session, with the .38 caliber revolver and the 12 gauge shotgun. This course is designed to evaluate the trainee's ability to effectively fire each of these weapons. Each participant will be required to fire a minimum score of 80%.

Electronic Restraint Devices

In this course of instruction, Correctional Officers are trained in the proper use of three electronic restraint devices currently approved by TDOC. The Nova "Spirit", the Nova XR-5000 and the Nova Electronic Stun Shield. The proper use of electronic restrains will add a valuable tool to the correctional officer's options for use of force.

Overview of Remotely Activated Custody Control (RACC) Belt/TASER/Stun Cuffs

This course is designed to provide participants with an overview of the Electronic Restraint Devices that are used within our department, their basic components and how to apply them. NOTE: This is not a certification course.

Personal Searches

The overall safety and security of any correctional facility relies greatly upon the ability and the willingness of the employee to perform a thorough, effective search. During this class, we will take an in-depth look into the body search, the types of body searches, and the proper procedures and performance of these searches. Effective searches are one of the primary defenses against escape and other breaches of institutional security. (Reference Policy # 506.06)

Cell/Area Searches

The purpose of this course is to explain the need for searches as well as demonstrate proper procedures for conducting them. This course will also discuss the procedures for cell inspections. The participants will then demonstrate proficiency by performing a cell/area searches under supervision and noting the location of all contraband discovered. Following the class, participants will be given the opportunity to search cells and areas within the facility.

Crime Scene Protection

Participants will be given instruction on the importance to understand the protection, handling, chain-of-custody, and securing of evidence practices according to policy.

Visitation

Visitation is a vital part of the rehabilitation process of incarcerated offenders. This course provides the fundamental framework for visitation procedure. It provides an overview of processing and supervising offender visitations.

Staff Teamwork

This course is designed to develop team building skills, assess and develop leadership ability and to train staff in the principles of team decision making and problem solving. It is also a way to improve inter- cultural relations awareness. The instructor will divide the class into teams. The instructor will then lead the teams through a series of exercises or challenges that will require the team members to make informed decisions.

BASIC CORRECTIONAL OFFICER TRAINING

WEEK 3 FY20-21

Use of Force Policy, Law and Continuum

This course teaches participants the constraints on the use of force under TDOC policy to aid in the decision making process of determining the difference between anticipated and immediate use of force, when authorized to implement the use of force, identifying the equipment authorized for use, and the considerations for the applications of force, up to and including deadly force.

This course introduces participants to laws applicable to the use of force continuum with regard to balancing the needs of officers with ethical concerns for the rights and well-being of offenders.

This course is designed to give participants an understanding of guidelines as to the degree of force appropriate in a given situation ranging from officer presence up and to the use of deadly force

Introduction to Close Quarter Personal Defense Level 1 (CQPD-1) Defensive Tactics

During this class the participant will be instructed in the components of the Use of Force Continuum, areas of the body vulnerable to blows, kicks and applied pressure. The class will also discuss the variables applicable to the use of force and how to properly articulate the use of force in both written reports and interviews. Safety precautions will also be covered to reduce the likelihood of injuries.

CQPD-1 Stance Strike

During this portion of the training, the students will demonstrate the interview stance and the bladed body position, used to control the immediate space around them and to react to potential attacks. Students will also demonstrate how to employ open hand strikes to control attackers and elbow strikes and kicking techniques to drive an attacker away from them.

CQPD-1 Post to Hook

This class teaches the student how to defend themselves against sudden, unexpected attacks and drive their attacker off balance in order to gain physical control over them. It also teaches how the student can keep an attacker from closing into range to attack them and if required, to close with an offender and gain physical control over them.

CQPD-1 Defense against Punches, Chokes and Body Locks, and Proper Falls

The class introduces the participant with techniques to escape from a rear chokehold, escape from body locks from the front/behind with arms pinned next to the body and arms free. Techniques will also be taught in the proper method to break your fall if thrown to the ground.

CQPD-1 Basic Restraints

This class consists of a lecture concerning TDOC Policy for applying restraints, both at correctional facilities and in a community supervision setting, as well as hands on demonstration of how to apply handcuffs to compliant and non-compliant offenders. Students will be taught how to apply the restraints individually and with an assisting officer.

CQPD-1 Escort Position and Rear Takedown

This course covers the defensive tactic ability to retain a firearm when someone attempts to take possession from a holster; has taken the weapon from the officer; or has a firearm in close proximity to an officer. The participants are instructed in tactics for self-defense and reduce the opportunity of death or serious bodily injury for the officer or other persons. This class teaches the student how to take control of an attacker and get them to the ground in order to apply physical restraints. The class consists of several joint manipulation techniques and take downs.

CQPD-1 Defense Against Edged and Blunt Objects with Handcuffing

Through the use of lecture, demonstration and return demonstration, the participant will be trained to defend themselves against blunt instruments and knife strikes along with follow-up handcuffing techniques.

CQPD-1 Ground Defense

This section of Defensive Tactics will include instruction and application of hand to hand grappling techniques designed to assist the officer in defending themselves from a ground position.

Cell Extraction

This course is an overview of Cell Extractions, why they are done, a description of the team members and what their duties are as well as what type of equipment is used. While mental health staff and medical staff are provided with the skills necessary to minimize the use of mental health restraints and their subsequent implementation, it will be the correctional staff who are the most likely to actually apply the devices.

Therapeutic Restraints Overview

This class identifies different types of mental health restraints approved by the department, the process by which they can be ordered, how they are applied and documentation requirements. While mental health and medical staff are provided with the skill necessary to minimize the use of mental health restraints, it is correctional officers who will actually apply those devices once ordered by appropriate staff.

Chemical Agents

This course introduces the new correctional officer to the use and effects of aerosol chemical agent through lecture and demonstration.

Chemical Agents – Inert Drills & Decontamination

This course expands on the use of chemical agents; it introduces the new correctional officer to the use and effects of aerosol chemical agent through demonstration and practical application. They will receive either a level 1 or level 2 exposure to live chemical agent in the exercise.

BASIC CORRECTIONAL OFFICER TRAINING WEEK 4 FY20-21

Tier Management

During this course the students will be given information and explanations regarding the purpose and fundamental reasoning for the Tier Management system used by TDOC. This course is designed to help students understand the rationale for this system and its importance in maintaining a secure environment for both staff and inmates.

Security Procedures: Population Count

This course is designed to teach participants the rationale for, and procedures used in conducting Inmate Population Counts, by examining the types, purposes, and principals involved. It will also examine common errors in Population Counting, stressing proper techniques and attitudes as the best way to avoid them. Following the classroom portion, participants will have an opportunity to observe counts being conducted and reported.

Security Procedures: Control of Gates, Perimeters and Security and Skills

During this course, the instructor will explain how all TDOC institutions shall maintain safe and secure perimeters that are appropriate to their assigned security designation. The participant will be encouraged to participate through discussion, study and related reading of policies. Following the class, participants will have an opportunity to observe the operations of the gates and perimeters.

Transportation/Inmate Escort/Vehicle Searches

The proper procedures for the transportation and escort of inmates are an important function of any correctional system. Of primary importance during the transportation of inmates is both officer and inmate safety that also adequately protects the public. This course will concentrate on transportation rules and procedures and the proper way to escort inmates in various situations. There will also be a component on the search of transport vehicles.

Security Procedures: Dining Room/Yard Supervision and Skills

Any time you have inmates walking around outside of their housing units or gathered in one location, the potential for serious security and safety problems exist. Contraband being “smuggled” from one location to another, inmates being in unauthorized locations and/or loitering can lead to more serious issues such as assault, escapes, etc. In this course we will discuss these issues and ways to properly supervise inmate movement and small crowd gatherings. Following the class, participants will be given the opportunity to observe Dining Room and Yard procedures.

Inmate Rules and Grievances

Participants will be given instruction regarding their responsibility in inmate grievance resolution. The purpose of the course is to inform the participants in methods of dealing with grievances to better resolve the inmate issues or differences at the lowest level possible. (Problem Solving, Written Communications, Timely Decision Making)

Volunteers: Their Impact

The purpose of this course is to acquaint employees with the volunteer program as it is set up in the Department of Correction and its impact on recidivism. Through a lecture and discussion session this course will inform the employee of the reason the department uses volunteers and the appropriate manner to process them in and out.

Conflict Resolution

Participants will receive instruction in problem-solving and proactive resolutions of conflict among staff members by supervisors and managers. Participants will become familiar with the employee Disciplinary process and the proper corrective actions to take in issuing disciplinary action.

Criminal Thinking

This course ensures Tennessee Department of Correction personnel receive the information necessary to effectively identify the beliefs that fuel common thinking errors and strategies to counteract those tactics.

Effective Courtroom Testimony

Attending court hearings is one of the major job duties of a Probation Parole Officer (PPO). It is also one of the times that all PPO's must dress and conduct themselves in the utmost professional manner since their dress and conduct is not only a reflection of themselves but also of the agency. Being prepared prior to court appearances will definitely help PPO's in meeting this job duty successfully. This course will provide information on appropriate dress and conduct, being prepared and testifying that will enable any PPO to be a professional in court.

Interpersonal Communication

Inmate Religious Property

The course is designed to give participants an introduction into policy that regulates access to all religious resources for all inmates.

Rules of Supervision

To comply with the Tennessee Department of Correction's mission statement of providing effective community supervision in order to enhance public safety, the sentencing courts in probation cases and the Parole Board in parole cases impose a set of general conditions all offenders under supervision must abide by. During this class the participant will review the procedural requirements regarding the rules of supervision and discuss the meaning of the general rules.

Caseload Management

The goals of offender supervision are to minimize public risk, promote lawful behavior and assist with positive rehabilitation efforts. Many policies and procedures governing all aspects of supervision and caseload management of community supervision offenders exist to enable Probation Parole Officers the knowledge and ability to meet these goals. This course will provide the knowledge and teach the correct procedures for caseload management that are not taught in separate classes of the pre-service training.

Liability

During this course of instruction, we will discuss the State and federal laws and TDOC policies that govern the use of state issued firearms.

Tennessee Law

The lesson is taught via a combination of lecture and discussion. The purpose of this lesson is to ensure staff employed by the Tennessee Department of Correction becomes familiar with Tennessee Code Annotated (TCA) chapters that pertain to community supervision. This lesson is best taught by using the traditional classroom setting. The instructor should be well versed in this material in order to answer any specific questions relating to TCA. During this block of instruction, a computerized slide show presentation will be used to enhance the delivery of the information.

Constitutional Law

This course will discuss the United States Constitutional Foundations as it relates to law enforcement and Corrections. The Bill of Rights will be discussed with particular attention to the 4th, 5th, 6th, and 8th amendments. Several Court cases in the development of Federal and State applications of law will be reviewed. The results of not following the Constitution, federal and State Law along with TDOC Policy will be discussed. Finally, a survey of some common laws, and the police powers of the Department are discussed to allow the student to gain some connection between theory and how the TDOC and the State of Tennessee must conduct business in relation to the Constitution.

Opening a Case

When an offender is placed under supervision it is the Probation Parole Officer's responsibility to open a case file. In this course we will cover the process of opening a case file including the required forms and documentation.

Probation Poster Child

This course will allow officers to hear an offender's perspective of how they found themselves in a correctional setting, and what characteristics and interactions from their officer helped them make a change in their life. This class will be one-part APPA webinar, and one-part conversation debrief.

Social Communication Skills

This course focuses on introducing the cadet to the ability to vary speech style, take the perspective of others, understand and appropriately use the rules for verbal and nonverbal communication, and use the structural aspects of language (e.g., vocabulary, syntax, and phonology) to accomplish these goals.

Communication, Professionalism and Command Presence

This course is designed to examine what it takes to communicate well in a correctional setting. Good communication is absolutely essential. We must be able to communicate with other staff and inmates as well as the public in order to complete our mission. We will also discuss the role professionalism and being a good role model plays in our day to day work. Last, but certainly not least, we will discuss the importance of maintaining a "command presence".

Investigative Reports

The first and foremost duty of probation parole officers is to protect the public. Investigative reports aid in the sentencing, paroling, classification and supervision of offenders; therefore, they are an integral part of a probation parole officer's duties in protecting the public. This class will examine the different types of investigative reports, the purposes of the reports and the procedures involved in investigating and preparing the reports.

Contact Notes/Contact Codes

Document, document, document! During this class participants will learn the guidelines for contact notes, learn the different categories of contact notes and their purposes, and become familiar with the codes used to record the contact notes.

Cultural Diversity

Cultural issues are personal; they get to the heart of what you think about people, but rarely reveal. We may fear that we will offend others if we voice our opinion or thoughts on racial, ethnic, gender, or other such issues. We must be able and prepared to deal effectively with a wide variety of people; the key word here is effectively. The purpose of this course is to explore ways to work with our cultural differences, not let them be stumbling blocks.

Email Essentials: addressing and Distributing Email

This course covers the techniques for addressing and redistributing e-mails appropriately. Specifically, you will be introduced to the best practices for deciding who to send e-mails to, and how to flag e-mails appropriately. The course also covers proper etiquette for forwarding e-mails and using reply and reply all. Finally, the sensitivities of copying an e-mail over someone's head are addressed.

Victim Sensitivity

Historically, Community Supervision practices have been offender – directed and have ignored or passively responded to the concerns of crime victims. While offender supervision strategies are aimed at protecting the public as a whole from further victimization; the interests of individual victims are often lost under the mass of paperwork and growing caseloads of offenders. A victim would profit from understanding that offenders will be held accountable for their actions either through payment of restitution or other supervisory conditions. While the primary goal for community supervision agencies, sentencing courts and correctional facilities can and should provide services to victims of crime.

This class is designed so that the participants will learn how to impose swift, certain, and proportionate sanctions for non-compliant behavior by an offender under Community Supervision in order to gain compliance without the offender returning to custody. In addition the participants will learn how to award incentives for offender positive behavior since it has been proven that people also respond well to positive reinforcement. Sanctions and incentives are complementary to effecting behavior change. This behavior change is the goal.

Verbal Self Defense

This course is based on the concepts presented in Verbal Judo. Most confrontations with offenders are verbal and if handled properly, by the officer (or other staff), are not likely to escalate into a physical attack. The problem is that we as correctional employees often let our ego, our biases, or personal feelings determine how we respond to a situation. These types of responses are not only unprofessional; they are likely to result in making the situation worse, even resulting in a physical attack. When we resort to these types of responses, it may be said (accurately) that the results are “our own fault.” This course will provide the correctional employee with many valuable verbal “do’s and “don’ts” during confrontations with inmates

Probation Revocation Process

Probation Parole Officers are required to make a prompt and thorough investigation of the facts and circumstances regarding any alleged probation violation. A careful decision then has to be made whether to prepare and file a violation report in order to proceed to a revocation hearing. Fee Training

This class is designed to teach students the use of the Fee System to set up an offender's fees based on the type of case entered into the Tennessee Offender Management Information System (TOMIS).
